TERMS OF SALE

1. This is an unrestricted mail bid auction sale. All lots will be sold to the highest bidder. Bids are to be entered by lot number as catalogued. Bidders should feel free to bid as much as they want, realizing that all bids are treated as limits and that all lots will be sold below these bids when competition allows. At the same time, the cataloguer reserves the right to refuse totally ridiculous bids, or those bids which in his opinion are not entered in good faith. Closing date of this sale is Monday, May 31, 1982. Bids will be accepted until 6:00 p.m. on this date.
2. Prices estimated following each lot reflect the current market and are intended solely as a guide to bidders. You may bid higher or lower as you please.
3. California state sales tax of 6% will be added to the cost of all lots delivered within California unless a valid resale number is on file with us. Likewise, sale tax of 6½% will be added to the cost of all lots delivered within the Bay Area Rapid Transit District of the state of California.
4. Mail bid sales are not approval sales. By submitting your bids, you agree to all terms of sale stated herein. No lots may be returned without written permission, and all requests for such permission must be made within three (3) days of receipt of lots. All books are as described. We do realize that there exists the possibility of errors and typographical mistakes. Any errors on our part will be corrected. We cannot, however, be responsible for your errors; so please check your bid sheets carefully prior to submitting them.
5. Bidders unknown to us are requested to submit suitable credit references (trade references are acceptable), or a deposit equal to twenty-five percent of their total bids.
6. There is no charge for executing your bids. However, all successful bidders will be invoiced for all postage, insurance and shipping charges. In addition, there will be a fifty cent (50¢) charge per lot to cover handling and packing.
7. Terms of this sale are strictly cash, payable in United States funds. Payment is due upon receipt of notification. Title to all lots remains with the cataloguer until paid for in full. We reserve the right to withhold delivery of lots until payment has been made.
8. As an aid to unsuccessful bidders, we will notify you within ten days after the sale that such bids were not successful. We realize that many, if not most, of our customers are also active in the overall coin market, and with the large number of coin auctions taking place, we feel it only appropriate to offer this notification so that your funds may be made available to you for other purposes. In cases where an unsuccessful bidder has placed a deposit with us, a refund check will accompany such notification.
9. Thank you for your participation in this sale, and best of luck with your bidding.

END OF SALE

Dear Collector:

Welcome to my second mail bid sale of fine numismatic literature. I feel that the material offered in this sale constitutes one of the finest selections of books, periodicals and auction catalogues to enter the market in some time. I trust you will find something of interest in the following pages.

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank the nine consignors who have helped to make this sale an important numismatic event. At the same time, I also call your attention to the fact that we are now accepting consignments for my third sale which is scheduled to be held in October. If you are considering disposal of your library or important duplicates, why not contact me to discuss consignment arrangements.

Some of the major works offered include an original 1925 edition of A. W. Brownling's "THE EARLY QUARTER DOLLARS OF THE UNITED STATES 1796-1838;" three copies of Henry Chapman's sale of the magnificent collection of JOHN STORY JENKS;" three scarce works by Eckfeldt and Dubois; Theodore J. Venn's 1915 work on "LARGE U. S. CENTS;" two sets of J. F. Loubat's "THE MEDALLIC HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA;" and one of the rarest pieces in American numismatics, a fine copy of J. E. Attinelli's "NUMISGRAPHICS," published in 1876, and generally considered to be one of less than a dozen copies left in existence!

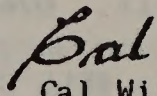

The collector of "REDBOOKS" will find a nice selection of no less than seven copies of each of the first ten editions offered, along with several complete sets of the coin collector's "Bible." There is also a nice offering of "BLUE-BOOKS," including three copies of the very scarce first edition. "THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS," published by the late Wayte Raymond is well represented with more than eighty copies being listed.

Among the periodicals, I am pleased to offer a large number of "THE NUMISMATIST," "AMERICAN JOURNAL OF NUMISMATICS," "THE COIN COLLECTOR'S JOURNAL" and a complete set of the "N. A. S. C. QUARTERLY," published by the Numismatic Association of Southern California.

Perhaps the most important offering in this sale is E. J. Haeberlin's magnificent "AES GRAVE, DAS SCHWERGELD ROMS UND MITTELITALIENS," published in Frankfurt in 1910. The importance of this lot is underscored by the fact that it is offered with the often missing volume of text. Expect heavy interest and spirited bidding on this one.

I believe this sale has something for everyone, and I sincerely hope you will find one or two pieces which are of interest to you. Once again, I wish to thank all of you for your continued support, and I wish each of you the best of luck in your bidding.

With every best wish,

Cal Wilson

New York, 1876. 123 pp., folding frontispiece in facsimile of the first reported coin auction held in the U. S. (June 12, 1828). Advertisement slip laid in. Modernly bound in green buckram gilt. Original green printed paper cover is a bit chipped, but has been repaired during binding. Contents are fine. In the forward to the 1976 reprint, John W. Adams stated that less than a dozen copies were known to exist. In recent conversations with Mr. Adams, he has disclosed that a number of additional copies have been located in the past few years; but that these discoveries are, for the most part, permanently impounded in libraries and institutions. It is his feeling that the actual number of existing copies is between twenty and twenty-four pieces. In any event, with an original printing of probably less than fifty copies, this monumental work must be considered one of the most rare and desirable pieces in American numismatics. The copy offered here must surely rank as one of the finest available, and would be a fitting addition to the most important library. Very RARE and seldom offered. $1,250.00

New York, 1925. 36 pp., 8 magnificent linen-backed photographic plates of coins. Original maroon buckram gilt. One of the classic American numismatic references. Still considered the standard reference on the subject. Last Fall, I sold an inferior copy of this remarkable work to a prominent California numismatist for $1,400.00! This piece, which I conservatively grade as nearly very fine, should attract strong bidding, and don't be surprised if it brings close to $2,000.00. RARE. $1,500.00

98. Crosby, Sylvester S(age). THE EARLY COINS OF AMERICA; AND THE LAWS GOVERNING THEIR ISSUE. COMPRISING ALSO DESCRIPTIONS OF THE WASHINGTON PIECES, THE ANGLO-AMERICAN TOKENS, MANY PIECES OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN, OF THE SEVENTEENTH AND EIGHTEENTH CENTURIES, AND THE FIRST PATTERNS OF THE UNITED STATES MINT. Boston, 1875. 381 pp., 10 fine heliotype plates, 2 manuscript plates, ill. Black half morocco gilt. Neatly rebacked. Illustration of Nova Constellatio pattern in gilt on front cover. This numismatic masterpiece, still considered the most authoritative work ever prepared on colonials, was conceived by Charles Chaplin, Vice-President of the New England Numismatic and Archaeological Society in 1872. Initially, a committee of six distinguished collectors was apponted the task of preparing the work for publication. Along with Crosby and Chaplin, Dudley R. Child, James E. Root, T. Edward Bond and Charles S. Fellows were assigned to the project. Within a short period of time however, the latter five gentlemen, one by one and for various reasons, left the group, leaving Crosby with the formidable task that awaited. Although quite bitter at the prospect of carrying on alone, Crosby determinedly went about the completion of the project. The work was published in serialized format, twelve parts issued in eleven and was completed in the summer of 1875. The original subscription price was one dollar per issue, and one hundred and sixty subscribers participated in the offering. Upon completion of the volume, Crosby had about three hundred and fifty copies of the entire text prepared, and these were offered for sale at $12.00 unbound, and $15.00 bound. These were all sold

within a short time, and the reference was not again available commercially until it was reprinted in 1945, by Chicago dealer R. Green. The copy offered here, which is a fine, sound piece, affords the serious bibliophile an unusual opportunity to acquire one of the most cherished prizes in American numismatics. $1,500.00

99. --. As last. Another copy of the rare original edition. Blue cloth gilt. Small waterstain affecting several plates, but not really all that bad. A tight, sound copy which, aside for the dampstain mentioned, easily grades as a fine copy. While not quite so nice as the preceeding lot, this volume would not disgrace even the finest numismatic library. RARE. $ 800.00

100. --. As last, but the 1945 R. Green reprint. Forest green cloth gilt. Showing just the slightest evidence of use. It should be pointed out that this particular reprint also included the very scarce "Woodburytype" plate, prepared by Dr. Maris, which is generally missing from the originals. From the library of library of Lee F. Hewitt, with a presentation inscription from C. E. Green. Very fine. $ 80.00

PERIODICALS

563. American Numismatic and Archaeological Society (and) Boston Numismatic Society. AMERICAN JOURNAL OF NUMISMATICS. Volume I, Nos. 1-12 complete. 1866-1867. This lot, and the following long run of this most important journal, represent an unusual opportunity to obtain a nice selection of one of the most eagerly sought periodicals in American numismatics. For the most part, these issues are in fine antiquarian condition. Occasionally, the paper wraps may be detached; however,

In all cases this and any other serious defects will be noted. In most instances, these old and somewhat fragile pieces come with minor edge flaking, but as stated above, any damage of a major defect will be fully described. Generally, fine, sound copies. $ 200.00

564. --- Another complete Volume I. As last. Generally, fine. $ 200.00

565. --- And a third complete Volume I. This bound in modern blue cloth gilt. Smaller format, as page edges have been trimmed. Fine. $ 150.00

774. THE NEW YORKER MAGAZINE; OR, LITERARY REPOSITORY. New York, November, 1792. Volume III, No. XI. 64 pp. A very rare item. This issue of the periodical contains a transcript of President Washington's speech to Congress, in which he makes mention of the fact that the establishment of the mint has had its small beginnings: "In execution of the authority given by the legislature, measures have been taken for engaging some artists from abroad to aid in the establishment of our mint; others have been employed at home. Provision has been made of the requisite buildings, and these are now putting into proper condition for the purposes of the establishment. There has also been a small beginning in the coinage of half-dimes; the want of small coins in circulation calling the first attention to them." Lacking covers. As might be expected, the pages are somewhat foxed and fragile. Nevertheless, a most interesting and important offering. RARE. $ 35.00

Full calf; binding defective. Some soiling in text, and a few small tears. Generally very good. Probably should be rebound. $ 150.00

AUCTION CATALOGUES & FIXED PRICE LISTS

In an attempt to offer as many catalogues and price lists as possible, I am departing from my normal practice of giving long, detailed descriptions. All early (pre-1920) items are, for the most part, very good to fine copies. These often come with edge flaking or chipping, and are sometimes a trifle foxed. Due to their usually small size, many have been folded at one time, leaving a crease. Any serious defects will be duly noted. All modern pieces will be fine or better, and again, any problems will be prominently mentioned. Since nearly all catalogues and price lists were issued in card or paper covers, it is not unusual that they will have lightly bent corners, wrinkles, wear at spine, etc. Also, with regard to titles of the various sales, I will take the liberty of condensing these where possible, but not at the expense of shrouding the identity of the auction. I would be pleased to hear any comments after the sale, regarding this method of description.

877. Chapman, S. H. and/or Henry. The following long run of these early classic catalogues represents an opportunity for the Chapman enthusiast to acquire some of the finest available pieces to be offered in quite some time. I have taken the liberty of listing the large size sales first, followed by the small size catalogues. I would also like to thank Mr. John J. Ford for his very kind permission to extract and reprint portions of his excellent article on the Bushnell Sale, which first appeared in THE COIN COLLECTOR'S JOURNAL in 1951.

THE BUSHNELL SALE

Every decade, during the past century, has included a numismatic event of such singular importance that it continues to reverberate, influencing our aims and interests, even to this day. A particularly appropriate example of such an occurence is the sale of the Charles I. Bushnell collection, (more than ninety) years ago, which heralded the beginning of a new era in American numismatics.

C. I. Bushnell died, at the age of seventy, in his New York home on Sept. 17th, 1880. He was well known as the author of two numismatic works, published in 1858 and 1859, concerning tradesman (merchant) and political tokens and the first three business tokens of N. Y. It was a popular opinion, that Mr. Bushnell possessed an unsurpassed knowledge of Colonial and early American coins. His collection, one of the most famous ever assembled, was unusually strong in Americana, particularly Colonial coins, medals, tokens, cards and similar items.

Within a few days of Mr. Bushnell's demise, almost all of the well known dealers attempted to contact his family with ill concealed interest relative to the purchase of his estate. The collection was initially offered by the son and Mrs. Bushnell, the executrix, at the round figure of $10,000. without finding a purchaser. The opportunity to carefully examine the collection was difficult to obtain, but eventually, several people obtained a fair view of the coins, and as much as $7,500. was offered by a New York party. W. E. Woodward, H. P. Smith, H. C. Sampson, and other dealers, including the indefatigable Ed Frossard, all attempted to obtain the collection, and at one time or another, all seemed to have an equal chance of success.

The aforementioned gentlemen did not, however, stop to consider the young and extremely precocious Chapman Brothers of Philadelphia. The Chapmans, Samuel Hudson and Henry, Jr., were but twenty-three and twenty-one years of age at the time of Mr. Bushnell's passing. Both had served an apprenticeship with dealer John Haseltine and both were extremely capable young men, well versed in the mysteries of their chosen profession. As in similar situations, the bright eyed and ambitious, however, earnest and sincere, were constantly way-layed and badgered by their contemporaries. On the other hand, the Chapmans were fully aware of their knowledge and other sterling attributes, and were not, at that time, susceptible to anything resembling modesty.

Ed Frossard, a former professor of languages and a partially disabled veteran of the Civil War, cleverly described the success of the Messrs. Chapman in regard to the acquisition of the Bushnell estate. "While the fray at the front gate of the citadel was waxing hot, the Chapman Brothers, by a strategic movement, having secured an ally within, entered through the postern gate in the rear, and captured the stronghold, much to the dismay of the craft in general, for few, excepting well-informed observers, had thought of them." What Frossard and the others did not learn until much later, was that the Chapmans had more than "an ally within" to aid them in obtaining the Bushnell material for sale.

"The Ally without," in this situation, was a Boston baker by the name of Lorin G. Parmelee. Mr. Parmelee began collecting in earnest about 1865 and after obtaining the Seavey, Adams and Brevoort cabinets, rapidly became the foremost collector in the country, his interest becoming stronger as Bushnell's diminished. By 1880, he owned the finest existing collection of Colonial coins and the regular U. S. mint issues and had, for several years, been negotiating with C. I. Bushnell for the purchase of his collection. After Mr. B's death, Parmelee would naturally be a most interested party, as the acquisition of a few pieces from the Bushnell estate would make his collection the most complete ever formed. Finally, Lorin G. Parmelee bought the Bushnell collection at a figure still unknown, but probably over $7,500. and a little under $8,500. By this shrewd purchase, he secured at apparently high, but really nominal prices, the few rarities needed to complete his superb holdings.

While the owner of the Bushnell collection and privileged to withdraw the most interesting items, Parmelee placed the entire estate into the hands of the Chapmans and requested that they catalog it for sale. Thereby, he could remain in the background and legitimately buy, against open competition, the coins necessary to round out his collection. Why the Chapmans were selected to sell the Bushnell estate is not clear, unless of course, it is understood that they were said to be nephews, by marriage, of the late Charles I Bushnell.

In course, as it always must, the word went around and the Chapmans made a statement, through Mr. Frossard, which appeared in a supplement to the March, 1882 issue of "Numisma:" "The rumors which have been circulated, by those envious of their success, to the effect that a certain number of rarities are withdrawn by previous arrangement with a certain prominent Boston numismatist, who was said to be their backer in the negotiations with Mr. Bushnell's son, are unfounded, and untrue. Every coin, medal, die and duplicate, of which there are many, will go on sale, and everything is to be sold, without reserve, to the highest bidder."

Within a very short time, the Chapmans prepared an announcement for the forthcoming sale, consisting of a circular, describing a sumptuous catalogue, corresponding in size, and forming a sequel to Crosby's "Early Coins of America."

This was somewhat unusual, as the catalogues of the period were small affairs, offering brief descriptions and limited commentary, often little better than lists of material to be sold. The announced length of the Bushnell catalogue and subsequent sale was also somewhat startling, as the total number of lots approached 3,000, and the sale itself was to be conducted for six days. The most radical departure however, as announced by the compilers, was an asking price of $5.00 for a limited edition of the catalogue with ten phototype plates (actually published with twelve). This, coupled with the 50¢ asked for a plain catalogue and the $1.00 for a priced one, plus the claim that the "Magnum Opus" would prove a sequel to as well as matching Crosby's work in size, was too much for several critics, including Frossard, who later observed: "It must be stated that while 50 cents is only a fair price for this large and handsomely printed catalogue, $5. is too much by half for the illustrated one. There is but one opinion among collectors on this point. The former ridiculous pretensions of the compilers to the effect that the catalogue would form a sequel to Crosby's masterly work 'The Early Coins of America,' also fall to the ground. There are in fact very few Colonial coins described and not found in Crosby, and as no new light is shed on his work, and borrowed information, conveyed with painful labor, belongs to the descriptive rather than the historical, it can neither supplant nor explain Crosby, but rather needs the explanations of the latter to make itself intelligible."

The actual appearance of the catalogue itself, early in 1882, brought forth extensive comments, including several snickers, the majority of which originated with the gentlemen who had an axe to grind. The Bushnell catalogue contained 136 pages and exactly 3,000 lots. Correcting the announcement, the sale was a five day one, June 20 through June 24, 1882, and as previously mentioned, the $5.00 edition contained twelve plates rather than the ten originally contemplated.

Mr. Bushnell's collection was always considered somewhat mysterious as he bought secretly and through others and generally under an assumed name. It is said that even his closest friends had little knowledge of the full extent of his cabinet. The appearance of the catalogue was eagerly looked for with interest and curiosity by collectors in general as the final dispersion of the collection seemed of the greatest importance.

The initial criticism concerned itself with the contents of the collection. The progressive element of the period righteously bewailed the lack of U. S. mint issues of the Bushnell cabinet. Regardless of how complete or how fine a collection, Mr. B. had made of Colonials, American medals and store cards, the breast-beaters wondered why he had neglected the rarities of the silver series; the 1804, 1851 and 1852 Dollars; the 1796 and 97 halves; the 1823 and 1827 quarters and the rarer dimes and half dimes, as well as the later pattern issues of the U. S. mint. The fact that Mr. Bushnell had collected for a number of years, particularly when rarities were cheap and collectors few, was oft brought to the fore, in several instances in rather derogatory terms. A comparison was made with the Mickley collection, sold in 1867, and as Frossard acidly remarked, "The Mickley cabinet still remains the best, most complete, as well as the most valuable American collection ever offered for competition in this country." Of course, the fact that Bushnell was a sincere collector and student of Americana, with little regard for the ersatz productions of the mint, including the 1804, 1851 and 1852 Dollars, made little difference to the critics of the day. The Chapmans alone seemed to appreciate Bushnell's lack of love for the regular mint silver issues.

Professor Frossard's "Numisma" appeared about five years after he took an active interest in numismatics and upon its yellowed pages we find extensive comments concerning the Chapmans especially with their catalogue of the Bushnell sale. In May, 1882, No. 3 of Vol. 6, we find the following tirade, obviously penned upon receipt of the catalogue. "As regards the arrangement and composition of the catalogue we remark with pleasure that the carelessness in composition, indifferent grammar, and tautology, found in the former combined productions of Messrs. Chapman, have to a certain extent been avoided in this. A good story must be well told, or it loses its charm, and it would have been a pity to see such adjectives as 'uncirculated, bold and sharp impression,' or 'unique, exceedingly rare, and only specimen known,' thrown in unending and tiresome repetitions throughout this catalogue. It looks indeed as if a person of mature judgement, sound learning, and accustomed to utter good English, had drawn the Messrs. Chapman from the inextricable tangles into which they have been wont to fall when endeavoring to make a point. If such be the case his name should have been mentioned as a collaborator, but it is quite as probable that they have simply followed the recognized authorities without referring to their lists or works, and this is the most unpleasing peculiarity of the catalogue, and one that cannot be overlooked. Except where it could not be avoided, the names of every American authority on coins and medals have carefully been excluded. Messrs. Chapman apparently prefer to leave the collectors in the dark rather than to commit themselves so far as to mention a single name."

Later, in another issue of his house organ, that of July, 1882, No. 4 of Vol. 6, immediately following the sale, Frossard became somewhat snide and altered his earlier opinions to an actual attack. "A plain and correct catalogue would have reflected honor on its compilers, but Chapman Bros. apparently exhausted themselves on the plates and mechanical part of the work, unconscious of the fact that a proper use of English terms, an intelligible construction, also general accuracy in statements made, are of greater importance in work of this kind than thick paper, new type, and gilt letters. Careless proof reading, tautology, and exhibition of boastful egotism can be overlooked; hazardous, overdrawn, incorrect statements of history, rarity and condition, cannot; the latter, rather than the former, are the chief defects of the catalogue, but all combining, help make the Bushnell Sale catalogue, as published, unworthy of the collection it is supposed to describe."

The sale itself began promptly at three p.m., Tuesday, June 20th, 1882, in the salesroom of Bangs & Co., 739-741 Broadway, N. Y. C. Lot #1, a Sierra Leone Penny of 1791, was purchased by Frossard and presented to Edward Cogan as a souvenir of the sale. Number 2 was bought by H. G. Sampson and presented to W. H. Strobbridge for a like reason. Lorin Parmelee bought in the Good Samaritan Shilling for $650. as well as the cream of the Massachusetts silver plus the Lord Baltimore Penny at $550., together with a large number of other desirable Colonials.

The monotony of the second day of the sale was broken by a gentleman who sat at the rear of the room and loudly criticized the descriptions of the various coins. The Chapmans purchased a large number of rare Colonials, and Ed Frossard obtained the most desirable item offered, the Brasher Doubloon, for a paltry $505. Parmelee continued to buy odd pieces to round out his already magnificent collection.

The third days bidding was enlivened by the presence of one Harrison, a Baltimore collector, who obtained the finest of the Washington medals offered. Parmelee purchased many of the first grade Washington coins while other room bidders actively fought for the balance.

The fourth days sale was made noteworthy by the spirited interest in early mint patterns almost all of which brought record prices. Parmelee again led the bidders, although the majority of the items offered were snapped up about the room. The last day of the sale, June 25th, was marked by the offering of the regular U. S. material. Friend Frossard purchased a fine 1800 silver Dollar and on behalf of the bidders, with the exception of "Long John" (Haseltine) and the two brothers, presented it to the auctioneer as a pocket piece.

Observations made at the time of the sale are rich in human interest. The bidding generally was spirited and rapid, the Chapmans starting each lot at a round figure, and when not going up quickly enough, were said to occasionally attempt bidding against each other. Mr. Richard Cogan had charge of the coins while on exhibit, and kept a record of the sales. The New York press attended the sale, due no doubt to the extensive publicity it had received. Among others, The Tribune, World, Sun and Times were represented. One observer remarked that the man from the Times was intelligent and dressed faultlessly.

Lorin G. Parmelee was the largest buyer, adding $3,800. worth of material to his famous collection. The Chapmans were next, having spent some $3,000. for stock. The other heavy buyers were Frossard ($2,500.); G. W. Cogan ($1,600.); H. G. Sampson and J. W. Haseltine. In all, the collection which probably cost Bushnell about twice the amount, realized $13,901.00, and was seemingly very profitable to Mr. Parmelee.

All in all, it was a lively and successful sale, the average daily attendance being about twenty-five, including buyers and spectators. Among others present, were Prof. Anthon, Ed. Cogan, Sr., Daniel Parish, Jr., W. H. Strobbridge, W.

Poillon, Wm. S. Appleton, Parmelee, F. W. Doughty, G. W. Cogan, Lyman H. Low, Charles Steigerwalt, H. P. Smith, Major Nicolls, J. W. Scott and Dave Proskey, all famous names in the glorious history of American numismatics.

It is said that humorous little incidents and remarks between the auctioneer, Mr. Merwin, and the audience, relieved the general monotony and kept everybody in a good humor. A reflection upon the times is contained in a comment made earlier by one of the catalogues for Bangs & Co.: "Patent portable spittoons cost only 50¢ apiece, and it costs $5.00 to have the auction rooms on Broadway scrubbed after each coin sale. Not being interested in the sale of the patent article, we only throw out the suggestion as a friendly hint."

Frossard, while generally caustic on the subject of the Bushnell catalogue and its youthful compilers, made a few references which seemed decidedly complimentary: "One feature for which Messrs. Chapman deserve praise is the care they appear to have exercised in pointing out all coins which our numismatic authorities have since the Mickley Sale discovered to be spurious; in all cases they boldly announce the fact, no matter what the costs may have been to Mr. Bushnell. In questions of authenticity therefore, we grant them the merit of having been painstaking, intelligent and honest."

However, the Professor, in future issues of "Numisma" continued to tear into the Chapmans and seemed to delight in heaping abuse upon the Bushnell sale. He was joined by W. E. Woodward, who, in his catalogue of the Montreal Sale, July, 1882, made a scathing attack upon the two brothers. After questioning the origin of several lots, Woodward remarked as follows: "There are many other pieces in this celebrated collection around which a veil of mystery has long been thrown, which, if they could be illuminated by the light of truth, would have their lofty pretensions sadly lowered - notwithstanding 'our opinion,' which throughout the catalogue is apparently regarded by the young gentlemen who compiled it, as amply sufficient to settle any mooted question in American numismatics."

Those among us, who follow every current sale of this generation with unyielding enthusiasm, must wonder at the obvious freedom enjoyed by our forefathers. The publication in a numismatic journal today of similar gross indignities would, in effect, be responsible for a catastrophe of no little measure.

In an effort to completely overshadow the earlier criticism of his own and of others, Frossard, in a final attack, listed in detail every lot in the Bushnell Sale that he could find fault with. Actually, many of these comments are quite amusing and should be followed carefully by every owner of the Bushnell catalogue. They indicate obvious dissatisfaction for a work that is currently valued by many leading authorities as a standard reference.

'Nos. 14, 16 and 17; Counterfeits."

'145. Bogus and modern; why did not Bushnell say whence he obtained the piece? If from England some one must have sold it to him; but the piece is known to be a fraud from the fact that the man who bought Hub No. 2844, said 'that he bought the hub because he had the piece.'"

'176. Crosby right; bogus."

'186 and 187. Nothing to do with Florida and 188 a Spanish medal."

'241. Counterfeit."

'247. More than 1 dozen known; probably a restrike."

'266. Counterfeit casting."

'289 and 1544. 'Knawing' is good."

'291. 'It is our opinion.' For shure."

'337. W. E. Woodward has had a dozen."

'349. 'Two or three known.' -- Bosh."

'362. 'Cast copper silver plated.' -- Original."

'537. Was there ever a Colburn Sale?"

'608. 'We do not think so.' Oh! Fountain of wisdom. Deep well of Knowledge!"

'620. Cast not stamped."

"653. 'One of the most,' etc. -- Bosh."

"712 and 715. More bosh."

"740. 'Very rare and the rarest variety.' Good English."

"775. Counterfeit of the period."

"778. 'Celebrated'; who celebrates it?"

"878, 887, 896. 'Five known,' 'Five known,' 'Three known,' how known and whence did the antiquaries derive this bit of gossip?"

"920. Too much bosh! Crosby's original statement correct."

"1005. 'Edge engrailed,' (with a chisel)."

"1017, 1026, 1038, 1052, 1064, 1069, 1081, 1090, 1107, 1114, 1116, 1121; none silver."

"1212. 'Imploring of him"; good Irish. Poor English."

"1217 and 1235. What is 'A band of Clouds'?"

"1244. A marvelous discovery and statement. This piece was lately bought by Scott & Co. at $7.50. Query. How did it get in the Bushnell sale?"

"1265 and 1303. 'Rays diverting", the description is diverting, the rays diverge."

"1289. 'Licking the calf,' and 'Minding the baby'; quite classical."

"1335 and 1343. Electrotypes."

"1375. Marvin 705; a mule."

"1400. 'Sunk disk' is good."

"1553, 1575, 1578 and 1579. Electrotypes."

"1605. 'This is one,' etc.; Bosh."

"1616. 'Medal awarded Congress'; when?"

"1660. W.E.W. has the dies."

"1748, 1749, 1751. 'Arctic' 'Artic'; bound to have the spelling correct."

"1764. 'U. S. Mint at Phila., which has been cleaned in acid; when?"

"1848. Electrotypes."

"1843, 1929, 1967. What Express? Adams?"

"1976 and 1982. And is it Alex. Hamilton?"

"2183. 'Similar but very different'; Clear as mud."

"2205 and 2206. 'Beath' and 'Uncirbulated' are good."

"2230. Not silver."

"2279, and 2282. 'Sewn' and 'Sewen' of course not sewed."

"2617. "We believe,' 'We had,' 'We sold,' 'We have,' By the way, quite a number of the Cents were polished with stove blacking; all the 1794's, 1814, 1827, etc.; none of the 1794 Cents were struck as proofs, and they rated from very good to uncirculated; all the fine silver medals had been cleaned."

"2635, etc. 'Variety to last'; to, good."

"Many of the Half Dollars did not belong to Bushnell's Collection. 'Bless my heart,' innocently exclaimed Major Nicolls, suddenly looking up from his catalogue, 'Why, I never knew I had so many uniques in my collection!'---"

"Auct.: 'Three cents, going at three cents to Proskey.'

"Pr.: 'No Sir, I did not bid on these.'

"Auct.: Beg pardon, I thought it was yours from the size of the bid.'---"

"Auct. (To H. G. S.): 'No Sir, you can't have that Silly head cent, that belongs in Philadelphia.'

"Sampson: 'How about the Booby head?'

"Auct.: 'That goes there too; it makes up the pair.'

"Smith (Loud): 'That's bogus.'

"Chapman (Sotte voce): 'Shut up Smith.'"

Undoubtedly the Chapmans ably weathered the blistering and abusive commentary heaped upon them during their formative years. The catalogue of the Bushnell collection was the first of twenty-one other large size sale catalogues.

The Bushnell catalogue announced the beginning of an era. It was the first of the widely publicized "Name" sales and was the first catalogue to be really dressed up with special type, expensive paper and extensive illustrations.

Again, my most sincere thanks to John Ford for allowing me to utilize the foregoing information. Now, back to lot No. 877. CATALOGUE OF THE CELEBRATED AND VALUABLE COLLECTION OF AMERICAN COINS AND MEDALS OF THE LATE CHARLES I. BUSHNELL, ESQ. June 20-24, 1882. 142 pp., 3,000 lots. Set of 12 reprint plates bound in. Modern green buckram gilt. Neatly handpriced in ink throughout. In all probability, Andrew C. Zabriskie's personal copy, as his name is signed next to each lot which he purchased at the sale. A very fine copy of one of the most important catalogues in American numismatic history. Quite scarce. $ 350.00

378. ---. THE VERY LARGE AND WELL-KNOWN COLLECTION OF ANCIENT GREEK AND ROMAN, ENGLISH, FOREIGN AND AMERICAN COINS AND MEDALS OF THOMAS WARNER. June 9-14, 1884. 180 pp., 3,727 lots. Neatly handpriced throughout. Bound in modern green cloth gilt. Again, this was, in all likelihood, A. C. Zabriskie's personal copy, as his signature appears on the title page. Very fine. $ 200.00

379. ---. CATALOGUE OF THE MAGNIFICENT COLLECTION OF COINS OF THE UNITED STATES FORMED BY THE LATE RICHARD B. WINSOR, ESQ. Dec. 16-17, 1895. 87 pp., 1,353 lots. Covers missing. Number of corners are logearred. Otherwise, the contents are generally fine. With a nice binding, this could be a very desirable copy. Scarce. $ 100.00

380. ---. CATALOGUE OF THE MAGNIFICENT COLLECTIONS OF COINS OF THE UNITED STATES FORMED BY JOHN G. MILLS, ESQ. Apr. 27-29, 1904. 102 pp., 14 fine photographic plates, 1,848 lots. Original prices realized as well as handpriced throughout. Bound in white cloth gilt. An important offering, containing many fabulous coppers. A similar copy sold in my first sale last December for $2,150.00. A fine, sound copy. $1,750.00

381. ---. HARLAN P. SMITH. Set of 14 reprint plates for the sale of May 8-11, 1906. As new. $ 25.00

382. ---. CATALOGUE OF THE LARGE COLLECTION OF THE GOLD AND SILVER COINS AND MEDALS OF ANCIENT GREECE AND ROME. EUROPE AND AMERICA PARTICULARLY THE DOLLARS OF THE WORLD. FORMED BY THE LATE CHARLES GREGORY, ESQ. June 19-24, 1916. 199 pp., 3,792 lots. A very fine copy which has been modernly bound in dark green morocco. Nice! $ 150.00

383. ---. COINS OF THE WORLD. ANCIENT AND MODERN. THE COLLECTION OF JOHN STORY JENKS. Dec. 7-17, 1921. 653 pp., 7,302 lots, 42 photographic plates. Photocopy of prices realized list. Thirty-four of the plates are original, with the other eight being fine photographic reproductions, which are sepia toned, and virtually indistinguishable from the originals. This particular copy came from the estate of Gayte Raymond, who, unfortunately, often cut out certain coins from many auction catalogues for use in his own publications. In the recent Powers & Ruddy sale of the Henry H. Clifford Collection, there were a number of Chapman catalogues which also had plates with cut out coins. That catalogue referred to the individual who performed the heresy as "scoundrel." In all probability, the scoundrel was, again, Raymond. I cannot emphasize too strongly that the quality of these reprints is so fine, that virtually the only method of detecting that they are not original is that the backs of the plates have not yet yellowed with age, as have the others. Later in the libraries of John J. Ford and Jack Collins. Bound in full white pebble-grained morocco gilt in facsimile of the original. $3,500.00

384. ---. Another copy, but unplated. Original white cloth. Tape on bottom portion of spine. Original prices realized list and set of 2 reprint plates laid in. About a fine copy. $ 350.00

885. Chapman, S. H. and/or Henry. CATALOGUE OF THE COLLECTION OF GREEK, ROMAN, EUROPEAN AND AMERICAN COINS AND MEDALS OF THE LATE NICHOLAS PETRY, ESQ. May 10, 1893. 48 pp., 711 lots. Magnum Opus. 287 pp., 111., 2 plates (1804 Dollar and 1822 Half Eagle);
169 lots. Embossed gilt card covers. Photocopy of prices realized.
Prospectus and announcement letter laid in. One of the finest cabinets to ever cross the block, and most assuredly, Mehl's greatest accomplishment as a cataloguer. This copy is the nicest I have yet handled, including one in the original mailing box which I sold last Fall for 175.00. Presentation inscription from Mehl to Richard G. Pfeffer. A very fine, nearly mint copy of Mehl's most eagerly sought sale. 4to. $ 150.00
